

INDICATIVE(SAMPLE) QUESTIONS WHICH CAN BE ASKED:

1. Being in the armed forces means being high on emotional quotient. One has to be very calm and collected even at the time of immense pressure and tension. How does one find this strength to be calm and composed during the time of crisis even when there is no hope?
2. If girls join armed forces, what are the differences between the assignments of boys & girls in armed forces?
3. Sir, aapkodushmano se lartesamaydarnahinlagta?
4. What is the best tribute we can offer to our dear martyrs who laid down their life for our motherland?
5. As a Human Being you must be holding some ethics and core values close to your heart. But this may sometimes conflict with your responsibilities to your country as military personnel. How do you bridge this gap?
6. What message you would like to give to those who want to join Agnipath scheme of ministry of defence, government of India?
7. The Army, like a lot of other occupations, is majorly comprised of males. With the introduction of NDA for women, a large number of females are being assimilated into the core army occupations and activities. What are your views regarding this massive, but long-awaited paradigm shift?

8. Would you like to share the most inspirational trait that we can imbibe in our lives?
9. One of the main pillars of Indian Army which strengthens it is its culture and traditions. But lately, I believe these are being diluted with time. Do you think that these dilutions of traditions will hamper the performance of the Indian Army and why?
10. You have my utmost respect for risking your life for the safety of our nation. The younger generation in the present time are not that motivated to join the armed forces and provide selfless service to the nation. What are your views on this?
11. Kindly share your experience during your postings in frontier areas of India.
12. We've learned and read a lot of saddening facts about different wars across the globe and their effects on human beings and the environment. What I would like to know is whether, war is the only solution for issues that boil among the nations.

13. Should the army officers forget all the pleasures as well as the family in order to work dedicatedly for the country?
14. Tell us some major missions during your complete tenure.
15. What message would you like to give to the new generation, if they want to join the armed forces?
16. What are the career objectives for women in Defence service?
17. How the army personnel give their time to their families.
18. Sir, with all the great life experiences that you had, can you please share with us any one life changing moment of yours?
19. Sir, what would you consider fulfilment in your life to be?
20. IS THERE ANY PRINCIPLE IN THE WAR LIKE, NOT TO ATTACK THE FOE DURING LAST EVENING OR NIGHT?